Theo is an incredibly skilled drummer with a deep understanding of love for music. What makes him stand out among other drum teachers is his unique feel and style, along with his ability to break it down and make it digestable to learn even for the basic beginner to the more advanced drummers. He's a great dude and very easy to get along with and learn from, which is what also sets him apart. What he teaches you will go a very long way into helping you develop your own unique style. I wouldn't go to anyone else!
